BOARD ORDERS AUDIT OF BOOKS WATER DISTRICT

Adopts Resolutions To Pave Way For Court House Annex Construction

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, at their meeting, Tuesday afternoon of this week, authorized the employment of an auditor to check books of the East Palo Alto and Ravenswood water districts.

The audit was authorized at the suggestion of Assistant District Attorney Daniel Sullivan, in line with recommendations of the county grand jury.

Audit of accounts of water and other revenue producing special assessment districts was proposed by the grand jury in connection with the current investigation of the Willow Road water district's affairs.

The board also authorized payment of $150 monthly to the L. H. Cook Research Laboratory, Inc., of Menlo Park, which will continue management of the Willow Road district until a decision is reached on permanent management.

The board stipulated that the person making collections be bonded at the expense of the water district.

The board adopted a series of resolutions paving the way for construction of the $240,000 courthouse annex. These resolutions declared intention of raising $50,000 in taxes during 1938-39 for the structure and transferring $6902.36 from the general fund to the courthouse annex fund to replace the amount spent on a

NEW HOMES ON INCREASE FROM HOUSING HELP

Recent Changes In FHA System Responsible For Improvement

More new homes were built and financed under FHA insured mortgage system in northern California in the first six months of this year than during the entire twelve months of 1937, it is revealed in a statistical report compiled by the district office of the Federal Housing Administration.

Of the 55,080 homes in this district on which mortgages amounting to $151,828,200 have been selected for appraisal, 9430 mortgages totaling $42,919,700 have been submitted since the first of the year. Of these, the report shows, 5495 aggregating $27,252,600 represent new homes built under government inspection from plans and specifications previously approved by the FHA architectural staff.

The FHA business in this district for the first six months of 1938 was said to represent 76 per cent of the total volume for last year. The increasing use of this plan of home financing is attested by the report, which shows in the table below mortgages selected for appraisal in northern California and the dollar value since inception of the insured mortgage system in 1935 to be:

1936	10,361	44,896,000
1937	12,285	53,560,100
1938 (6 mos.)	9,430	42,919,700

The report reflects a consistent increase in home building throughout the entire district. In 1936, it was reported, 32 per cent of all mortgages insured in this district represented newly built homes. During 1937 new construction increased to 39 per cent, and in the first six months of this year, 58 per cent of all mortgages selected for appraisal in the district covered new homes built under FHA inspection.

It is contended that recent amendments, authorizing the insurance of 90 per cent mortgages and reducing the cost of home financing as much as one per cent a year, substantially stimulated home building activity. In support of this contention it was pointed out that gross business in the northern California district office of the Federal Housing Administration leaped from a weekly average of approximately $750,000 to more than $2,000,000 a week khen the new regulations became effective last February.

HAS BEST RECORD OF RACING DOGS AT BADEN TRACK

Most Sensational Greyhound Yet To Perform At That Race Course

Rural Rebel, the son of Traffic Officer-Rosie O'Grady, continues to dominate greyhound racing at Baden Kennel Club with the most impressive record ever made by a racing dog at the South San Francisco oval. Only twice in eleven starts has the truly great R. C. Davis runner been defeated.

At his present form, Rural Rebel is unbeatable, according to the best opinion at the track. The dog, only 22 months old, seems to improve with each start. He breaks with lightning speed, defying speed traps. He finishes with a burst of speed that keeps him safely in front of the staunchest stretch runners.

Young greyhounds, most of them California bred, are enjoying phenominal success. In addition to Rural Rebel, there is Bluffing Bee, a 22 month old daughter of Bluffing Officer-Officer Bee owned by R. B. Ferris. She has run eight money races in nine starts.

Pete Mosconi of Denver scores frequently with Mighty Black, More's Bungle and My Birdie, littermates by Nigger Officer-Mia Belle and 20 months old.

R. B. (Bud) Carroll has the youngest kennel at the track—ten greyhounds, none of them over eighteen months old. The whole lot is from two litters, one by imported Balearic out of Donna Jean, and the other by My Laddie and out of Lady Gangdrew.

Dr. C. M. Stay of Gilroy has one of the last litters sired by Traffic Officer in four pups out of Theda Melstone, seventeen months old. The only two to start have been winners.

"I pledge close and cordial cooperation with all local governing bodies in the enforcement of liquor laws by the Board of Equalization if I am elected," he declared.

"Their recommendations will be my guide in all acts if I am elected to the board."

McMurray, a Democrat, has filed on the Republican and Progressive tickets also, so that the voters will have a "free choice in the selection of a candidate for this high office."

The seven counties in the First District are San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara, San Benito, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Luis Obispo.

SHERIFF SEIZES SLOT MACHINES

In a raid, Friday night of last week, Sheriff James J. McGrath and Deputy Hugh Williams confiscated four slot machines, two each from two East Palo Alto inns.

Arrested were Bob Collins, proprietor of Collins Cafe, and Lee Auten, proprietor of Autens. Both are second offenders, according to Deputy Sheriff Williams.

Five and 10-cent machines were confiscated from Collins, and a 25-cent machine and a 5-cent machine were taken from Auten's.

DO NOT FORGET THAT YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE

A new explanation of why some people drive recklessly was advanced recently by a Chicago psychologist. Some timid souls, he says, get a sense of power from sitting behind the wheel with 60 to 100 horsepower at their command, and they take out on the automobile what they miss in their everyday life.

If a man feels a little in doubt about his appearance or his importance, driving a powerful car at excessive speeds may be his way of compensating for it, the psychologist believes.

This kind of driver is dangerous, the National Safety Council points out, because training will not improve his driving, and tests for vision and reaction will not reveal him. When you are driving, be certain that you appreciate the seriousness of your responsibility. Don't allow yourself to forget for a moment that lives depend upon your judgment. — San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

LARGE INCREASE IN REGISTRATION COUNTY VOTERS

Clerk Estimates All Time High When Names On All Lists Are Counted

County Clerk W. H. Augustus today predicted that San Mateo County will have reached an alltime record number of registered voters when the lists close Thursday. The total, he estimated, will be over 50,000.

There are no definite trends between parties, he said, the Republicans holding their own but failing to regain any of their losses to the Democrats in recent years.

Present estimates place the Democratic total at about 4000 higher than the Republican.

Baby Tampers With Door And Falls Out

Baby Rita Gibbs, only two years of age, was in Villa Sanitarium, Monday of this week, as the result of too much curiosity.

Sunday, when her father's car was traveling 45 miles per hour along Mission street, in Daly City, the child opened a door and fell to the pavement.

Her father, Julian Gibbs, who was driving the auto at the time of the accident, felt lucky that the child was not seriously injured. The little girl learned a new lesson—that the doors of moving cars should always remain closed.

GRAND ANNUAL PICNIC IS SET FOR AUGUST 21

Local Chamber Of Commerce Will Sponsor Affair At Lovchen Gardens

August 21 will be one of Daly City's "Big Dates" this year. The local Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its first grand annual picnic at Lovchen Gardens on that Sunday.

Reports from committees who are working on the affair indicate that the party will be even bigger and better than the fine picnics sponsored by the Daly City Merchants Association in former years.

Games, dancing, bowling, a band concert and fine lunches laid out on tables beneath the spreading shade trees at the gardens will be main features of the afternoon. Hot dogs and coffee will be furnished free by the hosts.

County and city officials and candidates for the August primary election report they will be among the many hundreds of guests.

For those who do not have transportation to the picnic, a bus will run on half hour schedules (or oftener if necessary) from the top of the hill to the gardens. Admission 25 cents, children under 12 free.

WOMEN HURT IN TWO CAR CRASH ON BAYSHORE

Driver Blames Accident To Approaching Car Driven On Wrong Side Of Highway

Two cars were badly damaged and three persons escaped serious injury when a tire blew out on a car at Sierra Point, on the Bayshore highway, between South San Francisco and Brisbane, early Monday morning of this week.

Injured were Miss Shirley Lane, Route 1, Box 576, Palo Alto; Miss Mickey Hansen, 111½ Germania street, San Francisco, and James Riley, 405 Hayes street, San Francisco.

All were treated for cuts and bruises at South San Francisco Hospital and sent to their homes later.

Roy Linehan, 4451 Lincoln way, San Francisco, was driving north on the Bayshore highway at 1:15 o'clock Monday morning when, he claimed, another automobile, whose driver is now being sought, appeared from around a curve, moving on the wrong side of the highway.

Linehan applied the brakes of his car to avoid a crash, and swerved so suddenly that a front tire blew out. His machine skidded across the highway, turning over and striking a southbound car driven by Shirley Elizabeth Lane, 31, of Palo Alto. She was not seriously injured.

PUBLICITY PLAN FOR PENINSULA MEETS SUCCESS

Board Of Directors Sets Date For Meeting To Select Advertising Agency

At the regular monthly session of the board of directors of San Francisco Peninsula Inc., Tuesday evening of this week, it was decided to hold a meeting at which an advertising agency could be selected to plan the publicizing of San Mateo County during the coming World's Fair year.

Reports made by those directors present at the meeting indicated that every Peninsula city would participate in the program, which was led off by the county supervisors when they agreed to raise $22,000 for the purpose over the next two budget periods.

Date set for selection of an agency was Friday evening, August 12. At that meeting, representatives of six San Francisco agencies which have signified their wish to participate will present proposals for a concerted publicity campaign to attract to the Peninsula its share of visitors to the Golden Gate International Exposition. All of the $50,000 expected to be raised for publicity purposes will go directly into advertising channels, the agency receiving its remuneration in commissions from newspapers, billboard firms, and other media employed.

There are no paid officials in the San Francisco Peninsula Inc. organization, all services bein grendered gratis by its officers and directors.

The Santa Clara county supervisors, it was reported, were asked on Monday to aid the campaign inasmuch as northern Santa Clara county will benefit. Secretaary Granville Browning of the Burlingame chamber and Secretary Joseph Donovan of the Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce presented the request, action on which was postponed for a week.

NEW RAISE NOW ANTICIPATED IN COUNTY TAXES

Increase Of Eight Cents Said Necessary By Expense Of Two Elections

At Redwood City it was predicted by Supervisor Fred Beer, that an 8-cent increase in the county tax rate would be necessary owing to costs of the primary and general election in the county during the current year.

Had it not been for the two elections, the supervisor said, the tax rate probably would have remained at 1.14½ cents. He forecast a county tax of $1.22½ for the 1938-39 budget.

"The $1.22½-cent tax rate is a rough guess on my part, but as good as any," said Beer, following a two-day study of budget requests.

It was stated departmental budget requests this year are lower than last year.

Included in the new budget is $85,000 for election expenses—$75,000 for the primary and general elections and a $10,000 reserve in case it is necessary to call a special election.

Provision also is being made for a $40,000 appropriation in the road department budget for purchasing material for use in connection with work relief projects.

In addition to the $40,000, the budget will include the usual $20,000 for the county relief committee.

The supervisors also are considering a $30,000 appropriation for enlarging the county jail, but it is thought this item may be dropped until next year.

It is explained that the election appropriation, $40,000 for relief work materials and jail improvement, making a total of $155,000, require 15 cents of the tax rate.

NAVY TO MEET DALY CITY NINE IN BALL GAME

Recreational Department Baseballers Will Play Strong Team From Pacific Fleet

In view of the fact that many of our citizens have been unable to visit the fleet during its present stay in San Francisco waters, the Daly City Recreation Department has arranged to bring a small part of this fleet to Daly City.

Ensign Taylor of the U. S. S. Maryland is going to bring a baseball team here, Saturday afternoon of this week, to play a game with the team sponsored by the recreation department. The game will be called at 2 p. m. Saturday, July 23, on the Jefferson High School diamond.

In making request for a team to play our town boys it was specified that it must be one of the AA teams of the fleet, and we have been advised that the team coming Saturday is the strongest of the Pacific fleet.

There will be no admission charge to the game.

Municipal Railway Receipts Increase

For the week, ending Saturday of last week, San Francisco Municipal Railway receipts totaled $74,151.90, it has been announced by officials.

Daily totals for the week were: Sunday, $5409.30; Monday, $11,119.50; Tuesday, $12,451.00; Wednesday, $11,124.95; Thursday, $12,536.20; Friday, $11,422.90; Saturday, $9888.05.

Because of the steep grade on Bank street in New Milford, Conn., officials of the town are considering the installation of hitching posts for cars on the street to keep parked vehicles from running away.

"Accidents might happen—burglars might enter—my mother might want to take advantage of a bargain sale. We need a telephone . . . and all Dad needs to do is to call the Business Office. I'd do it myself, but I can't. It's no wonder that worry is keeping me awake half the day!"

SCOTLAND YARD MYSTERY PLAY ON LOCAL STAGE

Inspector Does Not Reveal Identity Of Slayer Until Last Curtain Falls

Operatives of Scotland Yard know and they have succeeded in obtaining a death sentence for the murderer. The Chief Justice of the Criminal Court of Appeals has confirmed the lower court's decision, but the identity of the murderer will remain a mystery until the last curtain of "Night Must Fall," the thrilling mystery play which opens at the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco next Monday.

The action of the Chief Justice of the Criminal Court of Appeals opens the play and from that prologue scene the audience is carried in a flash to the peaceful home of Mrs. Bramson, a neighbor of the Tallboys, where the murdered woman resided. But—who killed her and did the same murderer later take the life of Mrs. Bramson?

Suspect are: Olivia Grayne (Grace Cooper), Mrs. Bramson's niece who lives and works for her; Hubert Laurie (Max West), a London "Punch" type of Englishman given to such stupidities as "pip pip, toodle-oo etc.," seemingly harmless, who is in love with Olivia; Nurse Libby (Alice Bartlett) cunningly stupid or stupidly cunning, which (?); Mrs. Torrance (Edna Ellsmere) an Iirish cook with a vitriolic tongue and no sympathy for her ailing employer; Dora Parkoe (Geraldine Allan), a kitchen slavey with a weakness for Bank Holidays and "pickups," and lastly, Dan (Leon Forbes) an untutored bell hop with a sex complex and a power over women—and how. Scotland Yard Inspector Belsize (Daniel Pennell) finds the murderer, but he isn't telling until the last curtain is half way down.

The comedy drama "Excursion" that has been filling the house nightly at the Alcazar, ends this Saturday.

GRIT NECESSARY TO SUCCEED IN EVERY ENDEAVOR

At a youthful age, in fact, just after leaving boarding school in Oakland, an unusually attractive girl with latent dramatic abilities was given a letter of introduction to McKee Rankin, a fine actor and impresario of renown in the American theater. When the young woman, by name Gertrude Lamson, reached the office of the Alcazar Theater in San Francisco, of which Mr. Rankin was the manager, she passed him the envelope and waited with desperate longings for his reply, which was a smile; after which he read to her the contents of the message, to the effect that he should persuade her not to adopt the stage as a profession.

"What do you think you can do in the theater?" Rankin asked.

"Anything, if I have the chance," came the swift reply.

The challenging spirit of the tall, beautiful girl appealed to him, and shortly thereafter she joined his company, cast at first, of course, in minor roles. But her talent and distinction were too pronounced to be obscured long, and soon she blazoned forth, a new star in the theatrical firmament with the name of Nance O'Neil.

Return From Week's Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Hanson, son Melvin and daughter Elaine of San Diego avenue and Mrs. Hanson's mother, Mrs. M. Almquist of Vista Grande avenue, returned home, Sunday of this week, after spending a week at Wildwood, in the Santa Cruz Mountains.

On Sunday Mrs. Ethel Barger and daughter Janette of Vista Grande avenue and Albert Hanson motored down and spent the day with the group.

A dinner was served following the services at the home of the young man's parents. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. A. Brush Sr. and sons Charles and Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brush and son Billy, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. George Emerson and children Marian, Isabel and Jean, Mr. and Mrs. A. Better Than Any Pension Plan

Claire Blavette Brandeis, 32, is to receive $700 per month from her estranged husband, E. John Brandeis, 43, wealthy sportsman of Los Angeles.

This money agreement is to be carried out for the rest of Mrs. Brandeis' life, unless she remarries, when she would receive a lump sum of $25,000 as a final settlement.

Quaint Philosophy Of John Wanamaker

A man seeking to learn the secret of John Wanamaker's success asked one of the great merchant's friends, "What was it gave the business bent to John Wanamaker's mind?"

"The same thing that has given a bent to many other minds," the friend answered, "necessity."

"What made him succeed?"

"Capacity coupled with indomitable energy. He has no patent on success. Any other man may use his means if he will. But few men will work as hard as he. I have never known one other man to do so."

"How does he keep his head under it all,"

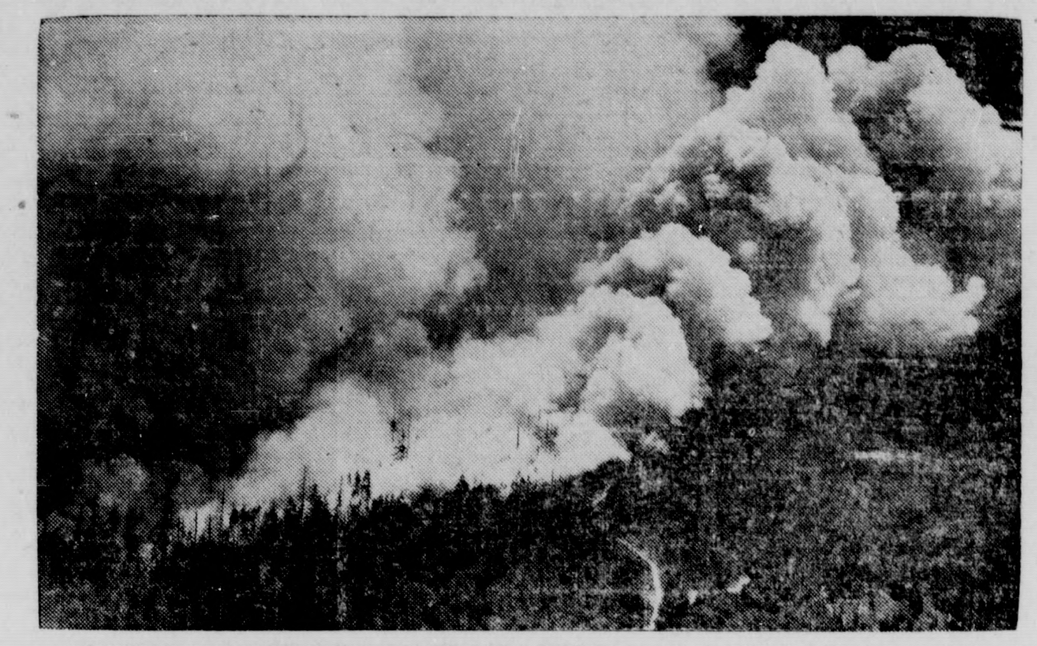
"By masterful organization and one bit of philosophy."

"What is the bit?"

"He expressed it once to me in these words, 'Do the very best you can and leave the rest to Providence.'"

Etta Anchester, superintendent of a Philadelphia kindergarten, says a bright child shouldn't get too many A's, explaining: "He should get D once in a while. It will do him good, for life isn't going to strew A's all around him."

1500 ACRE FOREST FIRE RAGES IN OLYMPIC PENINSULA



A widely ranging forest fire, extending over 1500 acres and about ten miles long, sent a mile high pall of dense smoke into the sky over the rich timber regions around Port Ludlow, Wash. Vast lumber reserves were eaten by flames in the largest fire of the season. Fire fighters turned out en masse to prevent the blaze from reaching the Toandas peninsula, where dozens of Seattleites' summer homes are located. Other forest fires are reported raging throughout the Pacific Northwest from the Oregon border to the Canadian province of British Columbia.

Child Christening And Reception

Frederick Raymond Shaughnessy, three months old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Shaughnessy of San Diego avenue, was christened, Sunday afternoon of this week, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church by Rev. Father Ryan.

The godparents were Mrs. Loretta Young of Oakland and Louis De Luzio.

A dinner was served in honor of the young man, before the christening, by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cabano, at their home on Como street.

Following the services a reception was held at the home of his parents on San Diego avenue, many friends and relatives calling during the afternoon and evening. A buffet supper was served.

The beautiful long christening gown worn by Frederick was the gift of his godmother and was her own handiwork.

LARGE OFFICIAL LIST OF MISSING

Thousands of people are waiting and watching in this country of ours for loved ones, who did not return. Eagerly scanning the countenances of passersby they continue to watch and pray that some day a loved one will be recognized among the many strange faces as the crowds surge on.

It was recently estimated by the Department of Justice officials that 16,141 Americans are listed officially as "missing."

TRAIN WINDOWS

You sat across the aisle upon the train
And counted cattle, saw the distant town,
Farmland and streams, and through a mist of rain
Knew the young freshet still was rushing down;
Hunted for violets in a woodsy nook,
Saw heaven across the pages of your book.

And I, across the way, saw city spires
And city pavements, an impatient throng;
The tangled network of a million wires,
And morning fog that grayly swirled among
The terraced buildings. By the self-same track
You journeyed forward, while I traveled back!

Newspapers
MADE MODERN DEMOCRACY POSSIBLE

FREE GOVERNMENT was born with the art of printing. Despotism ruled the world during the Dark Ages, not because there was no desire for freedom in the human soul, but because there was no means whereby a general movement among the people could translate it into action. Newspapers brought liberty to the nations because newspapers made it possible for men to inform themselves about their government and to inform their government about themselves. Newspapers made it possible for a people to voice and print their own opinions, to change the laws, to expose wrong-doing in public office, to oppose autocracy and dictatorship. Americans are a free people because a free press still gives voice to America's love for liberty. Continued freedom of the press is your guarantee that liberty shall continue to be the American ideal. You and your newspaper share the responsibility of maintaining free government in our country. Support your newspaper—protect its vitality and independence—for its welfare is your welfare—its freedom is your freedom.

THE WAY TO FIGHT WARS

Great Britain and the United States, we learn in the news columns, are endeavoring to effect a sort of economic accord whereby Japan's credit will be cut off in these two countries if she attempts to erect an economic wall around China that will interrupt the free trading privileges of the world.

It seems that Great Britain and the States have been the chief sources of Japanese credit.

Naturally it would be unreasonable to extend credits that would diminish the trading potentialities of the creditor nations.

Now we cannot pretend to understand the conventions and practices of politics and diplomacy. We are, after all, only a poor editor and not a great statesman.

Therefore we may be excused if we harbor the fact that we cannot understand why such a limitation of credit should not have been considered months ago.

To our untutored mind it seems absurdly silly that one nation should supply money to another for war purposes and at the same time go through all sorts of diplomatic acrobatics to protest and deprecate the use that is being made of that money.

We do not need to revive the term "economic sanctions" —it does have an unhappy connotation—to recognize the common sense principle that economic pressure is a good deal more potent in the international field than the threat of advancing troops.

For instance, it seems a bit far-fetched to spend money to fortify the coast of British Columbia, obviously against a threat of Japanese invasion, when this report makes it clear that the only way the Japanese could finance such an invasion would be with British and American funds.

The way to fight wars is with economic and financial pressure. Any other method is utterly and criminally absurd.—Vancouver Sun.

QUEER WRITINGS FILL CAMPAIGNS WITH ILLUSIONS

Every Utterance Of President Stressed By Opposition As Personal Issue

Naturally the President's trip across the country and the speeches he has made and is to make have been the source of a lot of newspaper comment.

Just as naturally the anti-administration papers have attributed his favorable mention of certain candidates, particularly for the Senate, to personal resentment against those who opposed particular policies of administration and his desire to punish those who opposed these policies.

The reactionary press, and the reactionary spokesmen generally, speak of the process as a "purge," borrowing the phrase used to indicate the ghastly doings in Russia and in Germany by which these totalitarian governments rid themselves of rebellious leaders. They have even invented an "elimination commission," which is supposed to be going around and organizing the campaigns against anti-New Deal Senators. Never in any of these attacks is there any admission of the possibility that the President, conducting the battle between the forces of liberalism and the forces of reaction, may be actuated by a simple purpose of having elected or returned to Congress people friendly to his policies rather than those who have indicated hostility toward the legislation he deems necessary for the welfare of the country.

In the President's fireside talk, made just before he started on his journey, he made his position perfectly clear. He said: "Do not misunderstand me. I certainly would not indicate a preference in a state primary merely because a candidate, otherwise liberal in outlook, had conscientiously differed from me on any single issue." And he added: "We all know that progress may be blocked by outspoken reactionaries and also by those who say 'yes' to a progressive objective, but who always find some reason to oppose any specific proposal to gain that objective. I call that type of candidate a 'Yes, but' fellow."

The President's manifestation of approval of particular candidates is gravely criticized by the Republican and affiliated organs of publicity as something unprecedented in American history, whereas there probably has never been a President of the United States who has not followed the same procedure. We need go no further back than the episode of Calvin Coolidge's sending Lodge and the rest of the Old Guard to the rear at the Cleveland convention. We might go back to the other Roosevelt, and note his cheerfully voiced attacks on Foraker, Platt and Depew. It would be a strange kind of a President, indeed, who did not wish for the success of those who tried to aid him in what he was doing and prefer them to those who persistently throw obstacles in his way. It is a strange habit of thought to assume that the President of the United States is the only person debarred from interest in the nominees of his own party.

Inevitably, his enemies hail the victory of a New Deal candidate as evidence of some nefarious interference by the President, and just as inevitably they will attribute the election of an anti-New Dealer to a party revolution against the President. The first of these incidents was the renomination of Senator Pepper in Florida. They tried to make an example of the second course suggested, in the Iowa primary, where Senator Gillette prevailed over Representative Wearin, although in Iowa the only thing they could adduce to indicate the Presidential preference was to cite the circumstance that Harry Hopkins, who was born and went to school there, said that if he voted in Iowa he would vote for the Representative. Incidentally, both candidates proclaimed their loyalty to the Roosevelt policies and the record of their votes in Congress for and against the New Deal measures was just about even. In Kentucky, the President did anything but disguise the circumstance that he favored Barkley, the majority leader in the Senate, over Chandler, the governor of Kentucky. Was anybody surprised at this? Was anybody in doubt, even before the President made his speech at Covington, where the President's sympathies lay?

At this writing, Indiana is higher up on the political horizon than any other state because Senator Van Nuys, after being repudiated by the local state Democratic organization, has been invited back into the fold I don't think anybody has ever heard President Roosevelt express an opinion about Van Nuys, who voted against the administration on certain measures and with it on others. The Van Nuys affair started long before the Supreme Court fight. It was not surprising that the anti-Van Nuys faction brought the question of loyalty to the President into their own private feud. Apparently, however, some things expedient to state politics developed and the Senator was reinstated.

It is not merely in Senatorial contests that we have these fine exhibitions of impartially recording facts. For example, in the newspapers of a recent date the appointment of a judge from Virginia, who was other than the candidate endorsed by the two Senators, was announced as a reprisal measure from the White House directed at Carter Glass and Harry Byrd. If he had appointed the man recommended by the Senators, it would have been announced that it constituted a surrender to these two hardened Old Dealers. It would not have occurred to any of the commentators that perhaps the President thought the man he chose was better fitted for the post than the other one.

In other words, the President must never be conceded a decent motive if an indecent one can be conceived.

Christian Science Lesson Sermon For Next Sunday

"Teach me they way, O Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, July 24, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: "He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthy, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all. . . . He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true" (John 3: 31, 33).

The following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "The question, 'What is Truth,' convulses the world. . . . The efforts of error to answer this question by some ology are vain. Spiritual rationality and free thought accompany approaching Science, and cannot be put down. They will emancipate humanity, and supplant unscientific means and so-called laws" (p. 223).

Business Is On Upturn All Over

Marking the new upward trend in business, employment in California's principal manufacturing industries rose 1.7 per cent in June over May, according to the Bank of America business review for June, just released.

This accompanied the rise of the bank's Far Western business index, which reached 68.7 for June, as compared with the revised May level of 66.8. Incidentally this ended a series of progressively larger decreases each month of 1938, as compared with the same month the year before.

California's department store sales remained stable during June, the index standing unchanged at 96.

Residential building permits issued by eleven principal California cities during June were valued at $7,516,000, which is 26.7 per cent higher than the same month in 1937. The San Francisco regional office of the FHA selected 1736 residential mortgages for appraisal during June. This is 49 per cent more than in June last year and only slightly less than the 1765 selected in May, 1938. The Los Angeles office received 2364 applications for insured loans during June as compared with 2447 in May.

"On the basis of the above data," notes the review, "it appears that residential building activity in California will not show any sharp decline during the coming weeks."

Bank debits showed a daily average of 0.7 per cent better for June than for May.

Public Buying More Cars—More Stock

The recent upturn in automotive stocks is an indication of vastly improved sales during the coming months, the Mission Auto Company, Chrysler-Plymouth dealer here, stated yesterday.

"As leading financial writers point out," declared this dealer, "as a general rule, the stock market anticipates the improvement in business trends. In the case of the automoblie industry there is a vastly improved sentiment among factory executives concerning the outlook for business during the balance of the year. As evidence of this feeling," he continued, "insiders who are closely in touch with the sales outlook and therefore more accurately informed than the public at large, are purchasing automotive shares with a view toward increased market value and earnings."

The local dealer stated that his firm was contemplating extensive improvements to meet the approaching upturn in sales during the summer and fall months, as well as the increases anticipated during the Fair year in 1939.

CALIFORNIA TOPS EVERY STATE IN TOTAL AUTOS

Every State In Union Shows Increase In Number Of New Registrations For Year

New distinction for California as premier motoring state of the union is provided by official figures showing this state leading all others in total motor vehicle registration last year, according to report of the California State Automobile Association.

Figures of the Bureau of Public Roads show that California last year nosed out New York by rolling up a total registration of 2,657,233. New York staged a "photo finish" for second place with a regisrtation also in the 2,500,000 class. The exact total was not available, but California's lead by a small margin was officially affirmed.

California also showed the greatest numerical gain for the year, with an increase of 156,669 vehicles. The greatest percentage increase was recorded by Arizona, with a jump of 12.3 per cent.

The total registration for California consisted of 2,319,341 automobiles; 164,132 trucks; 132,927 trailers; 11,240 motorcycles; and 29,593 exempt vehicle registrations.

Total motor vehicle registration for the United States set a new all time high in 1937, almost reaching the 30,000,000 mark. For the United States as a whole registrations last year aggregated 29,705,220, of which 25,449,924 were passenger automobiles and 4,255,296 were trucks. The total represented a gain of 5.5 per cent over the 1936 registration of 28,165,550 motor vehicles.

Every state in the union showed an increase in registration, with the exceptions of Nebraska and South Dakota, both of which remained virtually unchanged with decreases of less than one per cent in each state.

Finland To Get Olympic Games

After Japan's renouncement of the International Olympic Games, Finland received a formal invitation to hold the 1940 tournament at Helsingfors. Acceptance was granted by the little country, this week.

Finland had, originally, bid for the international games and was given first call by the International Olympic Committee, soon after Japan's decision.

The time schedules for the games will be made at a future date.

THEATER AWAKES AFTER LONG REST

After a silence of 75 years the old First Theater in Monterey, Calif., has come to life again. This year Denny-Watrous have presented three plays to a delighted audience. They have chosen only old-fashioned melodramas, the type originally played in the old adobe. Of these the first was "Tatters of Squatters Gulch," the second "In the Shadows of the Rockies," and the third "49'ers" by the Troupers of the Gold Coast. Each play has been short, fast and followed by an olio of songs, dances and patter.

A master of ceremonies opens the show while two of the actors pass up and down the aisles offering peanuts to the audience. The olio opens with community singing of the old favorites, lead by the perspiring master of ceremonies. Between acts a bar in the front room does thriving business with temperance beverages.

The First Theater was built in 1843 by Jack Swan, sailor, traveler and raconteur. He arrived in the state by way of the sea and built his adobe as a lodging house for others of the trade. Originally a large house, it sheltered the hotel and storage quarters.

In the fall of 1847 Colonel Stevenson's regiment came to Monterey. Among this group were four men with vaudeville experience. They specialized in burnt cork minstrelsy. In the town they found three local characters who joined them in putting on a minstrel show at the old Cuartel. The performance was such a success they determined to produce a more ambitious venture.

Jack Swan was easily persuaded to clear out his storeroom and improvise a stage at the north end. The stage was shut from the audience by a wooden curtain raised and lowered like the lid of a box. The pit sloped at just the right angle, scenery was ready and rehearsals well under way before the publicity program started. The posters, printed with blackin gpot and brush, announced "Putnam, or the Lion Son of '76."

The play was a success and the box office receipts more than any had anticipated. For several years the theater continued to operate at great profit. There is a rumor that Jenny Lind sang in this beautiful old building, but it must remain merely a rumor. The "Swedish nightingale" never came to Monterey.

For many years the building was deserted, then it became a tea shop with a side line of curios and relics. In 1909 the property was deeded to the state and is now a museum containing many interesting objects connected with California history.

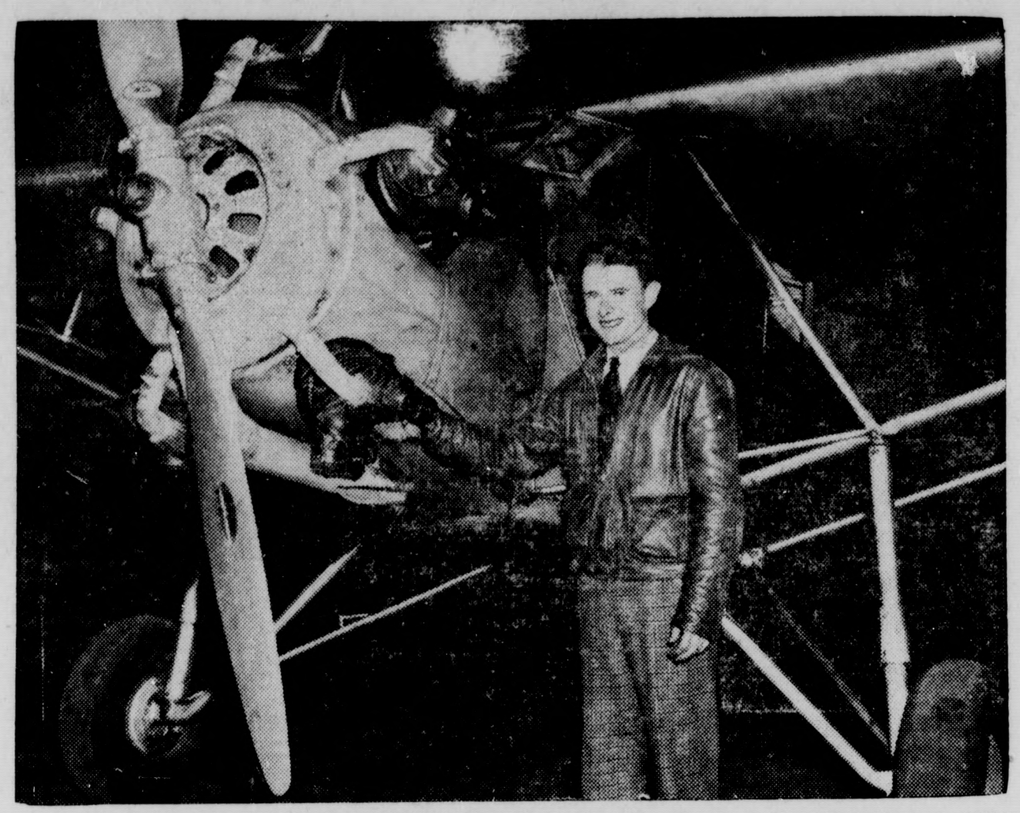
Coast Youth Hops To Ireland By Mistake In "Jalopy"



Taking off from Floyd Bennett Field in New York, Douglas Corrigan, 31, of Long Beach, Calif., flew out over the Atlantic, set his compass and declared he thought he was heading for Los Angeles. Instead, 28 hours 13 minutes later he landed at Baldonnel Airport, near Dublin, Ireland. The "mistake" flight was made in a nine year old "Jalopy" valued at $900, loaded with $69.60 worth of gasoline, and the only navigation instruments used were Corrigan's wrist watch and a wrongly set compass. He landed in Ireland without permit, passport or identification papers. Photo shows the adventurous flier standing beside the "flying crate" which carried him across the sea. He had built gasoline tanks on the machine for distance flying and, in order to see ahead, had to bank the plane to one side. Corrigan had previously flown non-stop from Los Angeles to New York and was on his "return trip" when he landed in Ireland.

FAMILY GROWING IN SEQUENCE

The eighth grandson of President Franklin D. Roosevelt first saw the light of day, Tuesday of this week, at the Lying-in Hospital at Philadelphia.

The distinguished baby is the fourth boy of the third generation and weighed seven pounds. His mother is the former Ethel Du Pont of Wilmington, Del., and his daddy, F. D. Roosevelt Jr., is the President's third son.

The young father smiled happily as he announced that the worst part was over and that mother and child were doing nicely. He also stated that a name for the new citizen had not as yet been decided upon.

The name "George" would do for a good start, for there is much ahead of this wee mite of humanity. "Let George do it," is a long standing slogan. If he patterns after his distinguished grandfather, it will be done.

Third Try Proves Charm For Suicide

The third try proved successful, after Carl Houser, 52, unsuccessfully attempted to take his own life, by efforts to hang himself and to cause demise by slashing of the wrists.

Finally the despondent sufferer gashed his throat, while in his home on Corbett avenue in San Francisco, and this time Hauser was no more.

While Elmer Giles of Denver was milking a cow, the animal fainted and fell on top of him.

WARREN GIVEN ENDORSEMENT IN HOME TOWN

From the Bakersfield Californian comes a warm endorsement of the candidacy of Earl Warren for Attorney General. In an editroial this paper states:

"The office of Attorney General is in no sense political. It is non-partisan in the same sense as that of a judge of the Superior Court. And under the California law it is one of the most important positions to be filled in the ensuing election.

"Outstanding among the aspirants for the place is Earl Warren, Bakersfield boy, and for many years district attorney of Alameda County. In this official position he has made an enviable record, one that commends him to the voters of the state for the higher position he now seeks."

NOT A MAN EATER

He was considerably puzzled as to what to do about the cat. Finally he hit upon a bright idea. He left the following note under his neighbor's door.

"Dear Mr. ————: Would you please put out a little food each day for my cat? He will eat almost anything, but don't put yourself out."

TWO DOLLARS IF WELL APPLIED WILL BUY A LOT

Hot Dog Party For Irene And Doug. Jr. In "Joy Of Living"

A two dollar party forms one of the delightful themes of "Joy of Living," RKO Radio's new musical comedy starring Irene Dunne with Douglas Fairbanks Jr. at the Daly City Theater, starting next Sunday.

Always in debt because of her family's extravagance, despite her huge income, Miss Dunne, a singing stage star, has never had time to enjoy herself. Fairbanks, a carefree young man with very positive ideas about happiness, seeks to change her views on the value of a dollar, and to prove his point compels her to go out with him for the evening for an inexpensive good time. What the two manage to do for their two dollars, and the resulting complications, lead up to the exciting climax of this unique offering.

Alice Brady, Guy Kibbee, Jean Dixon, Eric Blore, Lucille Ball and Warren Hymer are in the supporting cast of the Tay Garnett production, scored by Jerome Kern.

Sewing Club To Meet Next Week

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Crocker Sewing Club, which has been rechristened the "Sew and Sews," will be held at the home of Mrs. Vivian Pahlka, 1051 Hanover street, Thursday of next week.

The last meeting of the club had a very small attendance, owing to the visit of the President to San Francisco. We hope that the Crocker members and anyone else who wishes to become a Crocker member will attend the meeting next Thursday, if it is at all possible.

Mrs. Jordan and Mrs. Bordsen are both planning to give their luncheons in the very near future.

During twenty-five years, 3341 youngsters have been admitted to the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys at Bushey, Eng.
